Leading Travel Provider TravNET Introduces Complimentary Elite Arrival Service for Clients Using United Airlines' First & Business Class to Select Cities in China

Highly-Attentive Service Exclusive to UA First & Business Class Passengers Arriving in Beijing, Shanghai and Hong Kong

CHICAGO, IL—April 1, 2008—TravNET, the premier industry specialist for air travel to Greater China and all of the Pacific Rim, has introduced its Elite Arrival Service exclusively for United Airlines' First & Business Class passengers arriving in Beijing, Shanghai and Hong Kong. All TravNET clients flying United Airlines' Business and First Class are eligible for this complimentary high-touch arrival service.

"Our Elite Arrival Service is a very personal and highly-attentive service – immediately upon arrival at the airport, a TravNET representative meets our client at the jetway and personally escorts them through customs, immigration and baggage," said Randy Lynch, founder and president of TravNET. "Our clients enjoy an exceptionally streamlined arrival which means less time in airport lines and more time relaxing and pursuing their business goals."

As one recent client e-mailed: "I felt like a super VIP – I was met directly at the jetway and personally escorted through customs and immigration. This was a God-sent timesaver."
